An artistic illustration of a hand holding a pen, poised to write on a celestial map. The map features various astrological symbols, including zodiac signs and planets like Saturn. The background is a dark, starry sky.

This zine will empower you to navigate your astrological fundamentals while fostering a deeper appreciation for the intricacies of the ancient art and science of astrology. Whether you're birth chart curious or an avid student of the stars, this expertly-organized and highly-detailed guide will build your knowledge and confidence in essential astrological information, from signs and houses to aspects and angles and lots more. Questions for journaling and reflection at the end will take you even deeper into the skies—and into your own gifts, growth arcs, and "natal promise."
